New Open

1. Embrace the Unique Blend of East and West and Old and New at Hotel Indigo Nagasaki Glover Street, Opening Winter 2024

Located in Minami-Yamate, a nationally designated Important Preservation District for Groups of Traditional Buildings, the Hotel Indigo Nagasaki Glover Street will occupy a historic structure and share the charms of Nagasaki with its guests through its design and services. The lifestyle boutique hotel embraces and has based its concept on Nagasaki's "Wa-Ka-Ran" (the mixture of Japanese, Chinese, Dutch) culture, recreating the distinctive aesthetics of the city and flaunting a culture unique to Nagasaki, which was once Japan's sole international port. It is only a 7-minute walk from iconic landmarks such as Glover Garden and Oura Cathedral, a National Treasure and UNESCO World Heritage Site, letting you easily visit famous destinations around Nagasaki City for smooth sightseeing.

Festival and Event

2. Find Beauty in the Unknown at the Space Art Tanegashima Light Festival, November 1 – December 8, Kagoshima

©Satfes2024

Tanegashima is an island that belongs to the prefecture of Kagoshima. It hosts the biggest rocket launch site in Japan, the Tanegashima Space Center, both the home to Japan's space program and also the main venue for the Space Art Tanegashima Light Festival. The slogan for this year's festival is "love the unknown," with 16 artist groups (including 5 from abroad) and 26 light artwork pieces displayed in a fantastic, star-filled space. Their imaginative and ethereal presentations will help you feel as though you are observing the mysteries of space up close as you travel through the universe. The festival is held at night, making the artworks stand out even more prominently against the darkness. It will be held on Fridays, Saturdays, Sundays, and national holidays. Tanegashima can be reached from Kagoshima in about 40 minutes by plane, 3.5 hours by ferry, or 1 hour and 35 minutes by high-speed ferry, and during the day, you can check out public exhibits from the Tanegashima Space Center and the island's beautiful nature. 4. Stunning Luminous Festival Floats at the Chichibu Night Festival, December 2 – 3, Saitama

©Chichibu City Government

With a history that is approximately 300 years old, the Chichibu Night Festival has earned recognition as a UNESCO Intangible Cultural Heritage. It is one of Chichibu Shrine's most iconic festivals, featuring six gorgeous floats pulled around the streets of Chichibu, glowing with the light of paper lanterns and hosting Kabuki performers and more. The massive floats are further illuminated with sparkling fireworks in the background, and the booms of the fireworks are complemented by the rumbling sounds of taiko drums coming from the floats as well. Chichibu is a suburb on the outskirts of Tokyo easily accessed from the city and is a beautiful area that showcases Japanese culture and nature. The Chichibu Night Festival is a fantastic way to experience a lively Japanese festival even in the winter.

Seasonal Topic

6. Admire the Natural and Spiritual Wonders of Autumn Foliage at Hasedera Temple, ongoing until December 8, Nara

Known for its stunning collection of flora that decorates the grounds, Hasedera Temple in Nara offers picturesque scenery year-round with seasonal flowers and plants that accentuate the ancient buildings. In the autumn, the leaves of the trees change colors, framing the iconic five-story pagoda with vivid colors. Numerous events take place during the magical season of autumn, such as the Hasedera Momiji Matsuri (Maple Festival) and the Autumn Special Temple Treasure Exhibition, during which the treasure hall (which is usually closed to the public) is open for viewing and visitors can even directly touch the feet of the Buddhist Kannon statue. Both of these events will continue through December 8. Do not miss the opportunity to observe sacred Japanese religious objects up close while basking in the stunning, ephemeral beauty of the changing autumn leaves.

7. Explore Japan's Spiritual Heart with Connections to the Ocean at Ise-Shima National Park, Mie

©Ministry of the Environment

Winter is a wonderful time to visit Ise-Shima National Park in Mie Prefecture, with the cool, crisp air offering clear views of the park's stunning nature. Yokoyama View Point overlooks the flora and the view spreads out to the ocean, which becomes even more hypnotizing when reflecting the vivid colors of the setting sun. On particularly clear days, you may even be able to see Mt. Fuji. At night, stars overtake the night sky, twinkling away in the darkness. Ise is renowned for its seafood, and winter is the peak season for the area's famous Ise-ebi (lobster), prized for its firm meat, delectable sweetness, and rich umami flavor. Ise Jingu, a grand shrine and one of the most revered in Japan, is also located within the park and is a hub for the nation's spirituality. Founded approximately 2,000 years ago, the shrine draws millions of visitors every year and is carefully rebuilt every 20 years to ensure the conservation of the traditional craftsmanship and faithfulness to its origins.

Special Experience

8. Experience the Essence of Japanese Culture and Hospitality with a Traditional Tea Experience, Ishikawa

Japanese tea ceremony places great emphasis on hospitality. With this experience, you will be able to create unforgettable memories by experiencing authentic elements of a true tea ceremony held in a historic tearoom, allowing you to immerse yourself in and learn about this centuries-old Japanese custom. Mugen-an, a Tangible Cultural Property of Ishikawa Prefecture formerly owned by a samurai family, features exemplary traditional architecture that will make you feel as though you have been transported to ancient Japan. The experience will begin with a traditional tea "kaiseki" cuisine which includes small servings of several dishes made with seasonal ingredients. After a break, you will then whisk your own bowl of tea with traditional utensils within the distinguished walls of Mugen-an. The experience's location at the significant building and aspects of tea ceremony, such as the tea kaiseki cuisine, offer unique insight into this fascinating custom that you will be hard-pressed to find anywhere else.

Special Experience

9. Travel Back to Retro Japan at Twenty Four Eyes Movie Studio, Kagawa

Located on the eastern side of Kagawa Prefecture's outer island Shodo, Twenty Four Eyes Movie Studio retains the look of a retro Japanese town. Used as a filming location for numerous movies and TV shows, the set appears as though it has been preserved from the early Showa period (1926 – 1989), making you feel as though you have slipped back in time as you walk through the vintage, retro buildings. It is most famous as the set in the film Twenty-Four Eyes (1954) by director Kinoshita Keisuke, which depicts the interactions between a teacher and her 12 students. The set is open to the public, and you can wander and explore the school building, residences, and streets. Do not forget to check out the 54-meter-long "Cinema Art Wall," which is decorated with images of classic Japanese actors. In addition to souvenir shops and a noodle restaurant, you can enjoy a nostalgic Japanese school lunch at the Cafe Cinema Club, enhancing the quaint atmosphere. With art installations, movie-related exhibits, film screenings, and more, there is plenty to do and see at Twenty Four Eyes Movie Studio!
